Heavy Rains in Pennsylvania.

Pottsville, June 28.—The damage to crops, mines and railroads by the storm throughout this region is widespread and heavy. Trains on all branches of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad are delayed by washouts and landslides. The rainfall is the greatest in twenty years. A number of collieries are flooded, and in some cases mules drowned. The loss cannot be estimated.

Stroudsburg, June 27.—Several dams have burst at Stroudsburg, and the glassworks are flooded to a depth of several feet. Many cellars are filled, and there is great loss. Near East Stroudsburg serious washouts on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad caused a delay of several hours to all trains.

Ashland, Pa., June 28.—Twenty-three collieries are flooded by yesterday's storm; loss over $20,000. Colliery work is suspended, and it will take considerable time to make the necessary repairs. Trains are still delayed, owing to numerous washouts.

REPAIRING THE DAMAGE.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 28.—A partial stoppage of water running into the Conyngham mine has been effected. Officials of the Delaware and Hudson mines have ordered all idle men to repair and prevent further damage. Teams are hauling rocks, which are thrown into the broken bottoms, while 150 miners are dragging felled trees to the cave-in. A portion of the branch railroad dropped down, temporarily stopping coal trains. No estimate as to the extent of the damage. Thousands of persons visited the great gap this afternoon.

DAMAGE IN THE VICINITY OF EASTON.

Easton, Pa., June 28.—Damage to railroads in the vicinity of Bangor, by yesterday's storm, is about $12,000, and the loss to private individuals and state quarries is $75,000. Seven bridges in this county were swept away. The Lehigh at noon was fourteen feet high, and the Delaware fifteen. The latter is still rising. All mills and furnaces in South Easton are idle to-day in consequence of floods.

Lee Memorial Services at Lexington.

Baltimore, June 28.—About fifty ex-confederate soldiers, members of the Society of the Army and Navy of Confederate States, in Maryland, under command of General George H. Stuart, left last night on a special train to take part in the Lee memorial services at Lexington to-day. Many of these ex-confederate soldiers were attached to the army of Stonewall Jackson, and they took with them a bronze relief tablet to be placed on the tomb of General Jackson. The tablet is nearly three feet in diameter, and is a fac simile of the great seal of Maryland. On the upper edge is "Stonewall" and on the lower, "From the survivors of his men in Maryland."

Lexington, Va., June 28.—Valentine's recumbent figure of General Robert E. Lee was unveiled to-day, in the presence of 6000 persons. General Wade Hampton acted as chief marshal, and General Stewart as assistant marshal. The procession marched to the cemetery and decorated the grave of Stonewall Jackson, and then returned and paid a like honor to the grave of General Lee. The exercises were held in the university campus. General Jubal A. Early, the presiding officer, after a few remarks introduced the orator of the occasion, Major John W. Daniel. Father Ryan subsequently recited an original poem, "The Sword of Lee."

One Thousand Men on a Strike.

Philadelphia, June 28.—A dispatch from Bethlehem says 1000 employes of the Bethlehem iron and steel mill quit work yesterday, demanding an increase of wages, which was refused. There is much excitement.

Allentown, Pa., June 28.—To-day the large Bessemer steel works of the Bethlehem Iron Company are idle. Union men and non-union men alike have been shut out. It is claimed by the men that the difficulty has not been caused on account of wages, but that several days ago the company discharged a union man and refused to reinstate him, and decided to shut down. The men say this is an effort to force them to sever their connection with the amalgamated association, and that the company will recede from their action in a few days. The workmen have been offered substantial aid by President Jarrett. Messrs. Jarrett and Lee will return to Bethlehem Saturday.

Printers on a Strike.

Omaha, June 28.—The printers on all the Omaha papers have struck for an advance in the price of composition from 32 to 35 cents per 1000 ems. The proprietors offer 33 cents. The papers will be published in reduced proportions to-morrow.

General Sherman at St. Paul.

St. Paul, June 28.—[Special.]—General Sherman, Chief Justice Waite, Justice Gray and Colonel Tedball arrived from Duluth this morning and were driven to Fort Snelling, where the usual military salute and battalion escort were given. In the afternoon the judges went to Minneapolis to inspect the mills, and Sherman, after a ride of inspection over the reservation with General Terry, spent the afternoon writing letters. In the evening an informal reception, at which hundreds from St. Paul and Minneapolis were present, was held in Terry's quarters. The party leaves for Fort Ellis to-morrow, with Terry with them, and thence go through the national park. Colonel R. I. Dodge, Eleventh infantry, Sherman's former aid, has been ordered to accompany him through the park.

Thurman's Son an Imbecile.

New York, June 28.—[Special.]—The Tribune's Washington special says: John G. Thompson denies that he said that if he were in Judge Hoadley's place he would withdraw; that he would not make the race for governor when he had not a single friend on the executive committee. He neither said that nor anything like it.

"Is it true that Thurman's son is out for Foraker?" asked the reporter of Thompson.

"I don't know," was the answer, "and really it does not make any difference whether he is or not. He is almost an imbecile, and does not represent his father in anything."

Thompson said his race for sergeant-at-arms was not weakened in the least by his loss of the chairmanship.

A Slight Kick by Minnesota Republicans.

St. Paul, June 28.—[Special.]—Most of the politicians have returned, some to growl and more to be growled at by their constituents, for it is useless to deny that a large share of the Minnesota republicans are opposed to the third-term principle, and believe that Gilman for lieutenant governor. Von Baumbach for secretary of state and Kittleson for state treasurer, should be relegated to private life. Hubbard for governor, Hahn for attorney general and Barker for railroad commissioner, are regarded as entitled, by services during the present term, to renomination. There are no signs of a bolt, however, and the ticket will be elected by the usual majority, the kick being made merely as a warning for the future.

Grand Chinese Dinner.

New York, July 29.—[Special.]—The Chinese consul in this city gave a dinner to the leading Chinese merchants of Mott street, last evening, at his residence. About 100 guests were present. Some were dressed in rich costumes and others in semi-Mongolian attire. The viands served were cooked in the orthodox Chinese style. Wines with cigars and tea were also served. The guests listened to the dulcet tones of Chinese fiddles and other musical instruments, when the consul first arrived in this city, the merchants gave a banquet in his honor and this dinner was in return for that compliment.

Vanderbilt's Residence Sold at Auction.

Hartford, Conn., June 28.—The residence of Cornelius J. Vanderbilt, in this city, just completed and furnished at the time of his suicide, was sold at auction to-day for $43,000. The purchaser is W. H. Sponner of Bristol, R. I. The pictures and glassware were sold at a bargain. The house and grounds cost $225,000. The sale was made by executor, in the interest of Geo. N. Torey, resident legatee. There was a mortgage of $25,000 on the property.

Yellow Fever.

Biloxi, Miss., June 28.—The Norwegian bark Alma, from Vera Cruz for Pascagoula, arrived at Horn island yesterday, but having yellow fever on board was sent to the quarantine station at Ship island. A second man died to-day and there is said to be another case on board. The national board of health will give up the Ship island quarantine station Saturday. It is not known what arrangements will be made by the government, if any, for conducting the station.

No Paupers Needed.

New York, June 28.—[Special.]—The commissioners of immigration have sent to Collector Robertson the names of twenty immigrants who arrived by the steamer Furnessia, and who, in the opinion of the commissioners, are likely to become a public charge. The collector thereupon ordered the list to be forwarded to the Anchor line, with the request that the objectionable immigrants be taken back to Ireland.

Politics for College Graduates.

Boston, June 28.—[Special.]—It is understood that Tuesday next, July 3, Gov. Butler will go to Williamstown to be present at the commencement of Williams' college next day, at which it is rumored he will not only utter the customary words of congratulation and advice, but discuss the questions of free trade and protection.

The Would-be Duelists.

Richmond, Va., June 28.—Rumors are prevalent this afternoon relative to a hostile meeting between Beirne and Elam, but as yet none have been verified; in fact, persons who should know assert there has been no meeting. The whereabouts of the parties are not known.

A Real Estate Boom Broken.

Chicago, June 28.—[Special.]—The heavy men of Bismarck, D. T., met to-day to put up $100,000 for a state capital, but only $20,000 was obtained. It is represented as a boom in real estate and that the point has spent its force.

A Grand Railroad Scheme.

Chicago, June 28.—[Special.]—A secret convention was held at Indianapolis to organize a company and to raise $50,000,000 stock to build a double track railroad from New York to San Francisco and from Chicago to New Orleans.

Mexican Minister to England.

New York, June 28.—The newly appointed Mexican minister to England, Senor J. Mariscal, arrived from Mexico this afternoon. He leaves for England [illegible] July.

INDISPENSABLE.

The popular hair dressing, Carboline, a deodorized extract of petroleum, as now improved and perfected, deserves its renown, because it is absolutely indispensable to all those who would have good heads of hair. It is an article of genuine merit and will accomplish just what is claimed for it. [illegible] the dormant [illegible] of a diseased scalp, to give strength [illegible] fullness to a weak and straggling growth of hair, to bring back the natural color, and to keep it [illegible] and healthy, there is nothing that has ever been produced. Sold by all druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

SALE OF TWO LARGE PACIFIC STEAMSHIPS.

The "Rosebud of Jacinto"—The Campus Jury Ask to be Discharged—Complete News Report from the North—Etc.

The Boom in Northern Lumber.

San Francisco, June 28.—[Special.]—Lumber dealers are experiencing a boom which particularly benefits the trade in Oregon and Washington territory lumber. The already large export from those sections is rapidly assuming greater proportions, and it is understood that a number of representatives of eastern houses are to be sent to the lumber districts with a view of contracting for a large supply of hard woods to be used in the construction of vessels on the Atlantic border.

Trade with the Australian colonies never was more prosperous, in fact, from inquiries made by an Oregonian correspondent, among large dealers here, the success which characterizes the season so far is regarded as of great promise for the future. It is not improbable that the business will be pushed still further by sending out agents to canvass fresh fields. It is said that the size which Puget Sound timber attains, together with the uses to which it may be adapted in ship building, has recently attracted attention, and that the shipments already made to that market have been so successful as to make the venture highly profitable.

It is quietly hinted that a prominent firm here is arranging for a display of an immense stick during the conclave.

Sale of Two Steamers.

[Special.]—Negotiations have been pending for the past few days between the Oregon Improvement Company and the Pacific Mail Steamship Company for the sale to the former of the ships China and Costa Rica and were terminated yesterday. Officers of the Villard service here state that they are unable to give any information of the disposition to be made of the vessels, though it is currently reported that the China will be broken up and the Costa Rica placed on the Sound route, as a passenger steamer. It is more probable, however, that they will be fitted up for colliers. The China is a sister ship to the City of Peking, at present of the China route, and was built in New York in 1867. She measures a fraction less than 4000 tons, has a length of 360 feet, breadth of 47 feet and 4 inches, and depth of 22 feet and 9 inches. The Costa Rica was built in Wilmington in 1868, and measures 1457 tons; in length she is 229 feet; beam 35, and depth 21 feet. The custom house officers are disposed to invest the sale with an air of mystery, and despite the gentle words of an Oregonian correspondent, refused to produce the bill of sale. An appeal to Deputy Collector Jerome was equally unsuccessful, as that dignitary contented himself in shutting off all argument by the remarkable admission that he kept some things quiet.

Good Work for the Northwest.

[Special.]—John E. Shephard, commissioner of immigration for Oregon and Washington territory, returned yesterday from an extended visit to the northeastern country, in connection with business of his office. He took with him a large quantity of printed matter descriptive of Oregon and Washington territory lands, which was distributed at choice points in the interior. He stated to an Oregonian correspondent, that as a rule he found the merchants at the places visited by him not only willing, but anxious to hear of the northwest, some of them expressing a desire to go over the Northern Pacific, provided stop-over privileges were given at the Yellowstone Park. He also interested a number of mechanics' unions in his mission, and finally a committee was appointed by them to visit the northwest and submit a report, upon which their subsequent action will depend. The commissioner was the recipient of flattering notices from the interior press, and in one instance was confounded with Boss Shephard, the wire puller.

Three Thousand Chinese Laborers on a Strike.

[Special.]—Three thousand Chinese laborers, employed on the California and Oregon railroad, have struck for an advance in wages from $1 to $1 25 a day. The strike began last week, every Chinaman quitting at a given hour. They will listen to nothing except $1 25, and all attempts to coax or compromise have been rejected. The contractors are now trying to starve their stubborn workmen into subjection, but without success. Chinese bosses here say the advance will have to be paid, as there is such a demand for laborers in that section that men will have no trouble in getting work elsewhere. They also state that there never has been an unsuccessful strike by Chinamen on the Pacific coast.

Rush of Freight for the Northwest.

[Special.]—Freight for the northwest continues active. Notwithstanding the sailing of the State of California for Portland and the Dakota for the Sound to-morrow, the collier Willamette will have a miscellaneous cargo, also for the Sound ports. Freight was refused for the State of California this morning, and shortly afterward began receiving for the Columbia, which sails Monday. The Dakota also carries a full cargo.

The Miller Murder Trial.

Colusa, June 28.—The argument for the prosecution in the Miller case was begun this morning by Richard Bayne, who spoke an hour and a half. Jackson Hatch followed for the defense, and spoke four hours. He was to have concluded his argument to-night, but Juror S. R. Smith was taken suddenly ill and the court adjourned till to-morrow. Ex-Attorney General J. O. Hamilton will make the closing speech for the prosecution.

The "Rosebud of Jacinto" on the Stand.

San Francisco, June 28.—The appearance of the "Rosebud" at the Glenn trial yesterday afternoon created quite an excitement. The flutter of fans and the buzz outside the bar of the court instantly ceased and all eyes were turned toward the door through which "the Rosebud of Jacinto" was entering with too-shy[?]. As she took the witness stand it was seen that she was of medium hight, well rounded and robed in a slate-colored walking costume, beneath the flounces of which a pair of high-heeled French bottines kept creeping in and out and rapping the carpet nervously, or with a motion indicating that the display of their perfect fit was accompanied with more or less torture. Drawn across the witness' face and following the line of her mouth was a black veil, through the meshes of which could be seen, under their constantly dropping lids, large and bright black eyes. "Rosebud," although by no means young, assumed an air of coyness that completely captured Gen. Joe Hamilton, and caused the voice of the senior counsel for the prosecution to assume a tone far more modulated than that used by him in the cross-examination of the usual line of witnesses.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

Indians Resisting Government Surveyors.

Seattle, June 28.—[Special.]—The Indians of the lower Sound, along the Skagit, have for some years prevented a government survey of valuable timber lands above the confluence of the Sauk with the Skagit, and in the neighborhood of the Skagit bridges. Recently the surveyor general gave a contract for surveying three townships there, but upon reaching the scene of operations the party was met by Indians, who declared they would kill the whites, should they endeavor to do the work. The Indians off the reservation are joining the Skagit tribe, so that there are about 200 who will resist the survey. A committee was appointed to apportion the percentage on this business.

The strength of the committee indicates a determination on the part of the complaining roads to have something done.

ALGERNON SARTORIS.

The Husband of Nellie Grant Mixed Up in a Chicago Scandal—All Gossip and No Proof.

Chicago, June 28.—[Special.]—Rumors have been circulating about for a day or two connecting the name of Algernon Sartoris, the husband of General Grant's daughter Nellie, with that of a pretty English woman named Bush. It appears that Mrs. Bush, her husband and her brother, came across the ocean this spring in the same steamer with Sartoris; that Mrs. Bush hired a house in Milwaukee and went in debt for nice furniture; that last Monday the furniture and Mrs. Bush disappeared and the dealers did not get any money for it. The husband doesn't seem to appear in the transaction. While she occupied the house in Milwaukee, Mrs. Bush was occasionally visited by an unknown gentleman. For no very good or sufficient reason, as far as can be learned, the gossip fixed on Gen. Grant's son-in-law as the man. This gossip got into one of the local journals and SPREAD LIKE WILDFIRE.

All the details were magnified. The Times this morning published an interview with the woman, who stated that she was acquainted with Sartoris and came over from England with him. The same paper will to-morrow state that Sartoris reached this city to-day from Wisconsin and had two interviews with Mrs. Bush. It will also publish an interview with him saying he came from England in the steamer with Mr. and Mrs. Bush and was their guest at Milwaukee half a dozen times, and emphatically denies that he supported the Milwaukee establishment. In truth nothing has been shown thus far to in any way justify the flavor which has been made over the matter, or nothing to warrant the conclusions that his relations with his pretty countrywoman were any other than such as any gentleman might sustain toward any lady, except the fact that the woman's financial transactions appear questionable.

THE SCOTT LAW.

Opinion of the Supreme Court as to its Validity—One Section Excepted.

Columbus, June 28.—The supreme court to-day gave out its opinion in the Scott liquor tax law, holding it valid and constitutional, except the second section, wherein it is held not to apply to leases executed previous to the passage of the act, as no contracts made can be violated. Leases, however, entered into subsequent to the passage of the law came to be viewed the same as rentals, wherein the collection of taxes the first lien on the premises; holding the clause to subject a freehold, as provided by the statute made against a tenant, for carrying on a business upon the premises leased prior to the passage of the statute, to be an unwarrantable interference with private property, subjecting one man's property to the payment of another man's debts. "If this infirmity can be taken out of the statute by applying it only to cases arising under leases executed after the passage of the statute, it is our duty to so construe it, and every presumption must be taken in favor of the validity of the statute. It will be presumed that the legislature's intent was to apply the statute to subsequent leases only, and it will never be presumed that the legislature intended to pass an unconstitutional law." The opinion goes into a lengthy argument, showing the difference between the Scott and Pond laws; that the latter, with its bond feature, implied a license which is constitutionally prohibited; that the Scott law differs fundamentally on this ground. It is in no sense a license, according to the best authorities on the definition of license. The point is made that declaring one section partially null and void does not destroy the validity of the law in its whole, and its legality is not thereby affected. Okey dissents. Johnson, McIlvain, Doyle and Upson concur. Last year the decision was four to one the other way.

PAUPER IMMIGRATION DISCUSSED IN COMMONS.

London, June 28.—Trevelyan, in a speech to-day, said the telegram from America on the subject of immigration should be received with great caution. The steamer in question took out sixty-two emigrants, of whom only five families had been in the workhouse, and in each of those cases friends in America had offered them homes. He had himself seen all the tickets of emigrants, including railway tickets from the other side. They had, also, checks for the full amount of landing allowance, which for adults is £1, and for children 10 shillings each. Trevelyan said questions relating to the action of the American government in the matter should be addressed to the foreign office. His business is simply to ascertain whether the administrative details of Irish emigration are carried out. Lowthers, conservative, gave notice that he would, at an early day, call attention to the subject.

HARVARD DEFEATS YALE.

The Four-Mile Straight-away Won by the Former by Fifteen Lengths.

New London, Conn., June 28.—The eighth annual Yale-Harvard eight-oared four-mile straight-away race was rowed at 5:30 P. M., Harvard having virtually a walk over, winning in slow time, 24 minutes, 26½ seconds. Yale's time was 25 minutes, 59 seconds. There are fully 5000 strangers in town, one train bringing seventeen cars from New Haven, completely jammed. Many people are also present from Boston. The course was lined with steamers, sail and row boats, while an excursion train, which ran along the banks of the river, was crowded. The water was in fair condition and the wind about southwest and moderate. Both crews were unusually prompt in appearing at the line, and promptly started, Yale obtaining a trifle the best start, and with her rapid, jerky stroke at the first half mile was a good clear length ahead, but here the steady, long, sweeping stroke of Harvard began to tell, and she gradually crept up to Yale, until at the mile flag they were bow and bow, both crews pulling about forty strokes per minute. From here to the finish the long, steady stroke of Harvard gave them a commanding lead. At a mile and a half Harvard, pulling 34 strokes, was a length ahead of Yale, pulling 40. At the two miles Harvard was a good two lengths to the front, pulling in fine form, while Yale, though pulling her jerky stroke in good form, was slowly dropping astern.

HARVARD GAINS STEADILY.

At the two-and-a-half miles Harvard was five lengths ahead, and gradually increasing the lead. At the three miles Harvard was seven lengths ahead, pulling thirty-four strokes to the minute to Yale's forty-two. At the commencement of the last mile Harvard was pulling thirty-five strokes to Yale's forty-one, and at the beginning of the last half mile Harvard had ten lengths to her credit. From here to the finish both crews spurted, Harvard pulling 37 and Yale 42 per minute, but all efforts on the part of Yale were futile. Instead of gaining she gradually lost ground, Harvard crossing the line winner from fifteen to twenty lengths. For the first mile the race was very exciting, but after Harvard headed Yale at the mile flag the race was virtually conceded to be ended. After the race there was much condemnation of Yale's jerky stroke, and while it was conceded that the crew were well able to keep it up, yet it is safe to announce it will never again be adopted. For the Harvard men only praise is heard on every side, and that in two weeks' practice a stroke was found capable of carrying them to victory was a great surprise. At the conclusion numbers two and seven in Yale's boat were evidently pumped. Betting in the morning was five to four on the Yales, but in the afternoon it changed and was two to one on Harvard.

GARFIELD AND CONKLING.

Blaine Directly to Blame for the Rupture with the Stalwarts.

Chicago, June 27.—[Special.]—The inside history of the rupture between Garfield and the stalwarts is likely to be a thousand times retold, and it is claimed that if the correspondence of Garfield finds light it will disclose many facts the public never have been aware of. The Times' Washington correspondent claims to have seen letters of the dead president which plainly indicate that Blaine is directly responsible for the rupture between Garfield and Conkling, and that the former desired to avoid it. After having broken faith with Conkling in the matter of the appointment of secretary of the treasury, Garfield agreed not to disturb Merritt in his position, and Conkling stipulated not to oppose Robertson's appointment to some foreign mission. Blaine, in the meantime, was the one who was urging Robertson for collector of New York, to antagonize Conkling. Mr. Blaine was, in due time, apprised of the agreement, and thereupon he wrote a letter to President Garfield declaring he would resign his place in the cabinet if Mr. Robertson was not nominated collector of New York, and requesting an answer. This letter was delivered about 9 o'clock in the morning. Great as Blaine's influence with Garfield was, this dictation and threat was a little too much, and the president made no reply. This silence informed the secretary of state that he might resign, as his demands could not be complied with. But Mr. Blaine would not let the matter rest there. Having waited in vain all day for a reply, in the evening he went to the white house and repeated his demand for Robertson's nomination, in person. The interview lasted till a late hour at night, and Mr. Blaine's strong will and aggressiveness carried the day in his struggle with the man, who, in spite of many admirable qualities, relied too little on his own convictions and too much on the representations of others. Next morning Mr. Conkling sat in the senate chamber, writing a telegraphic dispatch to political friends of his, asking them to do what the president had asked them for in the local matter already referred to, and was thus engaged in completing his agreement with the president when the nominations by the president were received. The first name read was that of Mr. Robertson for collector of the port of New York. The rest of the story is well known.

Gray, referee in the suit for a divorce brought by Mary Alice Tearle against George Osmond Tearle, leading actor at Wallack's theater, reported to-day in favor of granting a decree to Mrs. Tearle, upon ground of adultery committed by her husband with the English actress Ethel Arden. The evidence taken shows that Tearle and Miss Arden lived together as man and wife in this city from October, 1881, until May, 1882, when Miss Arden went to England, where she married a man by the name of Scouller, with whom she is still living.

New York, June 28.—The divorce suit brought by Edith De Belleville against Frederick De Belleville, leading actor at the Union Square theater last season, was set down for trial to-day, but was adjourned by the consent of counsel until October. In this suit the claim for divorce is based on the alleged adultery of the husband, who in turn claims that although he lived with Mrs. De Belleville and called her his wife he was never really married to her, and that he is legally married to his present wife.

ACCIDENTS.

SEVERAL MEN KILLED.

Muskegon, Mich., June 28.—A dock with 800,000 feet of lumber fell into the lake this afternoon, precipitating about twenty men at work into the water. Three or four of them are missing, but the men are Hollanders, and their names are unknown. A boy named Frank Barhardt was crushed under 40,000 feet of timber. Two immense piles of lumber adjoining, which threaten to fall, prevent search for the bodies.

THREE MEN KILLED.

Whitelney, Wis., June 28.—The boiler in Ives Hale's saw mill exploded to-day without apparent cause, killing three men. The mill was almost totally destroyed.

SPORTING.

PIGEON SHOOTING TOURNAMENT.

Cincinnati, June 28.—The pigeon shooting tournament is much more satisfactory to-day, and a fair supply of live birds was obtained. Very many prizes were divided, the shooting generally being excellent. Among the best shots of the day were Hudson, Kimball, Stock, Winters, Baggie, Skip, Meaders, Truesdale, Ballweg, Eckert, McGraw and Dubray.

SOUTH AMERICA.

IGLESIAS RECOGNIZED AS PRESIDENT.

Lima, June 26, via Galveston.—The Tribune, Iglesias' organ, says the meeting at La Union, in the department of Huanuco, June 14, resolved to adhere to the conditions of peace and to recognize Iglesias as president. The same paper prints a certificate from Juan F. De Marini, dated Tauma, June 22, that similar resolutions were passed there June 3, and at Pampa, in the province of Ica, on the 19th.

Help for Mr. Kerdell.

New York World.

Something must be done at once for the relief of Mr. Kerdell. He pleaded guilty to a star route conspiracy to rob the government. The jury declares that he is a liar and exculpates his indicted confederates. It is plain that Kerdell cannot be put in alone and he must be declared an innocent man, though he really believes himself guilty. Kerdell is undoubtedly insane.

The Daily Oregonian.

FRIDAY MORNING, JUNE 29, 1883.

A MODEL OF COURAGEOUS JOURNALISM.

There is no more courageous newspaper than the New York Times. Unlike many journals that claim to be brave and vigorous when they are only audacious and sensational, the Times rises above the use of petty expedients to keep itself before the public, and evinces its boldness and courage in the treatment of large public questions, the moral side of which it presents with a force scarcely equaled in American journalism. No paper has attacked the great abuses of our political system with an energy comparable to that of the Times; no paper has scourged great delinquents with so much force and effect. For many years it has been the terror of conspicuous evil doers. Its vast resources enable it to go to the bottom of every inquiry into the wrongful conduct of men in public station. It had the testimony against Tweed and his accomplices before the authorities of the law possessed it, and it probed the star route robberies to the bottom before the government began to move in the prosecution of the conspirators. Every great rascal who has been exposed by it has blustered and threatened it with libel suits, as Dorsey and Brady are doing now. When the verdict of the jury in the star route trials was announced, that journal, true to its own vigorous and courageous course, said: "The Times does not acquiesce in the verdict, and will continue the warfare." Having answered the threats of libel suits by the declaration that it was ready to prove in a court of law that it had told the truth in calling the defendants thieves, it now follows up the statement by a fresh presentation of the evidence against them. This summary is simple and direct; it is cleared of all superfluous and irrelevant matter, and contains within a single column the material facts. Under pretense of "developing the west," Brady gave millions of dollars in extra allowances to thirteen mail contractors. The routes were in the sparsely settled and almost uninhabited parts of the south and west. Over most of them the mails were to be carried slowly, and from one to three times a week. On this basis the routes were advertised and the contracts let. Many bids were put in at fraudulently low rates, expressly for the purpose of putting under honest bidders in the localities to be served, for the ring was in the secret and knew that the pay was to be increased, and so, as soon as the routes were awarded to them, Brady began to "expedite" the service and to raise the pay. Within one year the increase of allowance to ring contractors was $1,700,897, and in the first half of the second year the sum of $600,000 more was added, while "temporary contracts," awarded without competition, swelled the total by nearly [illegible]

The [illegible] by which these great frauds were consummated were not at all complicated. [illegible] were revealed through The [illegible] exposure of Dorsey's operations in Oregon. On four routes in this [illegible] the annual pay was raised from [illegible] to [illegible]. A member of the ring [illegible] would send out agents to [illegible] the scheme. If honest petitions [illegible] could not be obtained, [illegible] were manufactured. These [illegible], which sometimes were sent into the department through a senator or representative, were accepted by Brady as a sufficient basis for [illegible]. The ring was for a long time [illegible]. Three Washington [illegible] were bought by the ring, [illegible] was made on all who [illegible] fraud. All the [illegible] of political intrigue were employed [illegible]. There were postponements and delays. Witnesses were kept out of the way. But there was evidence enough [illegible] all willing to convict. [illegible] too much to expect of a Washington jury a verdict against men [illegible] defrauded the government. But the [illegible] that the prosecutions are by no means ended. "The accused," it says, "are not at all in the position of [illegible] been tried for [illegible] and fully acquitted. The [illegible] failed to convict one group of [illegible], but it has still a mass of evidence to prove that Brady and the contractors [illegible] robbed the treasury of great [illegible] of money. On this evidence, with a fair [illegible] honest jury, the government can [illegible] the conviction of the men [illegible] indictment is. There is, therefore, [illegible] in still charging this crime [illegible]. On the contrary, it is the [illegible] honest newspaper to join in the [illegible]"

The Times, we may properly add, is an independent newspaper in the highest sense of the term. It is a republican paper on its own conscience, not a party organ in obedience to the [illegible] of [illegible] caucuses or conventions. It allows the name of party to be no cover to [illegible] or objectionable men. [illegible] example, furnished by so great and so [illegible] a newspaper, cannot but be of [illegible] service to the press of the country, [illegible] the [illegible] of true independence, of conscientious ability and of high moral courage in journalism.

OUR NEW NEIGHBOR.

Very soon St. Paul, Minnesota, will occupy the same position with reference to this city that San Francisco has held for so many years. It will be the eastern terminus of the Northern Pacific railroad, and the objective point of much of our transcontinental business and intercourse. St. Paul is one of the most enterprising and prosperous cities in the country. Its population closely approaches one hundred thousand, and the volume of its business is much greater than of most cities of its size. Just now the city is enjoying a remarkable season of progress. Since 1880 its population has [illegible] doubled. Then its school enrollment was 5668; now it is 8750. Then 6029 persons were employed in its manufacturing establishments; now the number is 12,361. Then the number of persons employed in the wholesale trade was 2000; in 1882 the number was 4084, and now it exceeds 5000. Assessed property valuations in 1880 were: real estate, $21,040,834; personal property, $8,897,653; and in 1882: real estate, $80,454,499 personal property, $20,040,236. Now the total valuation is $60,000,000. And so on, the St. Paul board of trade report, just at hand, gives figures for many kinds of business, which show that in three years the city has more than doubled its business.

The increase in the wholesale trade of 1882 over 1881 is $20,372,495. While all branches of business show a wonderful increase, that of the wholesale grocery trade is most striking. From 1848 to 1881 this trade had grown to $6,350,000 for the latter year, but in the single year of 1882 it leaped forward to $15,523,000, thus gaining more in a single year than in the preceding thirty years. The lumber trade in 1881 had reached $1,348,000, but in 1882 this trade also sprung forward to $3,439,622, gaining more in one year than in all previous existence. This vast increase in the volume of business required more banking capital and greater facilities for its transaction, and the capital of national banks, which was $2,200,000 in 1882, has been increased to $4,700,000, with a surplus of $870,431, making an aggregate of $5,570,431.

While yet, like Portland, comparatively new, St. Paul is an attractive city. It is eligibly situated and well furnished with fine buildings and the various public institutions, which evidence a fine and generous population. Let us hope that relations of good neighborship will always exist between St. Paul and Portland.

Repairs on the Eagle creek bridge, Clackamas county, have been completed.

WORKING IT UP.

It is now stated that the leaders of the whisky ring of Portland are preparing an ordinance which will be acceptable to their association. This is real condescension on their part. When they get ready to let the city know what kind of legislation they are resolved to have, possibly the city may accept the law from those who suppose themselves its masters. But possibly again it may not. There is many a hitch in these things. It is doubtful indeed whether the city will just yet abandon its law-making power to the whisky association.

But there is good authority for the statement that the Hon. Richard Gerdes, is and for some days has been in travail with an ordinance for the relief of the unlicensed drinking holes of the city, of which he is the proud and triumphant representative. His scheme is to reduce the license fee to $300 and to make the conditions of the bond easy for everybody who wants to dispense whisky and carry on the various branches of "business" that in so many instances here go with it. But Mr. Gerdes, with the luck of many another philosopher and philanthropist, is meeting opposition. Modification of the bond may, indeed, be admissible, since an opinion is prevalent among men of good judgment that the bond in its present shape has impracticable features, but there are few indeed, except among saloonists of the lowest class and those who allow themselves to be robbed for their support, that the license fee ought to be reduced to $300. The lowest admissible figure is $400, and $500 is not too high.

As to the bond, it may be a question whether a smaller sum, with conditions which will render it forfeitable upon serious abuse, is not better than a bond of $5000, with little or no prospect of forfeiture in case of its violation. Any bond is worthless unless the amount is to be forfeited if the conditions are not kept. In dealing with the bond there is room for deliberation and judgment. It is not an easy thing to settle its conditions off hand. But as to the amount of the license fee, public opinion is sufficiently settled. The present fee of $500 is a reasonable one, and in no circumstances should it be reduced below $400. Then the mayor ought to be empowered and directed to revoke the license and order suit to begin for forfeiture of the bond in case of any abuse of the privileges granted. Place some responsibility on the mayor. Then he will be amenable to criticism and can be held to the performance of duty. At present nobody is responsible for anything.

Lumber is being manufactured from straw at several places in the west, and is coming into quite general use for certain kinds of work. It is turned out in boards or sheets thirty-three inches in width by twelve feet in length, and of various thicknesses. It is heavier than black walnut, has no grain, is of the color of strawboard, though considerably darker, and is much stronger and stiffer than ordinary timber. Though made in considerable quantities at the present time, the supply seems hardly equal to the demand. There are advantages in material which in the near future will probably make it of the highest value, not only for carpenters and architects, but for the car builder and, in fact, for the mechanics generally. Its toughness, the firmness with which it holds nails and screws, the ease with which it can be cut by the aid of heat, shaped in dies, and is not liable to shrink or warp and is little affected by water, even when unprotected, makes the range of its probable uses extraordinarily great. It seems to be a non-conductor of heat and electricity.

A boy not more than 14 years old was confined in the city jail yesterday on a charge of theft, the offense being by no means his first. The little fellow was of necessity herded with a crowd of criminals in the general prison room of the jail, and during the greater part of the day found entertainment in a pack of greasy gambling cards. It is an outrage that a little fellow who cannot have advanced very far in crime should be subjected by authority to association with thieves and wholly depraved characters. Until a modification of the laws can be secured so that a house of correction can be established, the city ought at least to provide a jail room where the young offenders could be kept from association with older and hardened spirits.

The coming of Madam Janauschek, one of the greatest actresses of the day, is an event of much interest. For two years we have had an almost uninterrupted run of "shows," ranging from bad to very bad, beginning with that aggregation of crudities "Fun on the Bristol," and ending with that lesser aggregation of duller crudities "Whims." We have feared that, long subjected to the silly, the commonplace or the coarse, Portland's dramatic taste, which used to be really good, would become perverted. The visit of Janauschek will, we hope and doubt not, revive appreciation for something above negro minstrel buffoonery.

Mr. Jacob Kamm and his steam whistle have opened a discussion through The Oregonian of a wide question of morals. We are trying to put a curb on it, lest it run into theological disputation,—

> A gulf profound as that Serbonian bog
> Betwixt Damiata and Mount Casius old,
> Where armies whole have sunk.

Who can question that everything in this world is correlated with everything else, when a dispute about a steamboat for a printer's picnic leads off into these wide ranges of opinion and speculation?

Important among the incidents of next week's celebration will be the rowing races, for which local oarsmen have been in practice for several weeks. The course opposite the city is one of the finest in the world, and at this season of slack water it could not be better. Our oarsmen have good muscle and fine boats, and there is no reason why they should not "speed away" equal to the best of them. In this connection it may be said that Hanlan, the Canadian oarsman, expects to visit Portland this season.

Most thieves want a thing pretty badly when they steal it—want it with a kind of "long-felt want" as it were. But there are instances of recent theft where the thief didn't want the stolen goods, had no use for them and regarded them as worse than worthless, yet he kept on stealing them and using them and robustly lying about it—no doubt from the mere lust of stealing and lying, since every other motive is disclaimed.

The work of improvement at the new cemetery, on the white house road, is not yet finished, but enough has been done to make the place very beautiful and attractive. We hope that its proprietors will not allow the hackneyed name of "River View" to become fastened upon it.

From South Yamhill we learn that after the winter wheat was frozen out many farmers planted oats and barley in its stead, and that such fields are standing the continued dry weather remarkably well.

A CARD.

HAVING NOTICED IN THIS MORNING'S Oregonian a special from San Francisco, prompted evidently by a jealous amateur of that place, I wish to state that I never did claim the one or three mile championship, but I do claim the "Pacific coast championship for trick and fancy riding," and have held it for several years. When that writer says I was defeated in a race by Egg [illegible] and others, he tells a deliberate falsehood, as he will see by turning to the back numbers of the "Pacific Life." I wish to state, also that I never had time nor money to practice several months to race a mile in the hot sun for a silver dollar polish d off and engraved on one side. This is the second time that I have been attacked by that same jealous amateur. If I am not the champion, send some of those amateur experts to Oregon to defeat me. FRED T. MERRILL,

THE REASON

Sellwood has grown constantly in public favor is because of the actual intrinsic value of the property. It is the best site in or out of Portland for the average man who expects to earn his daily bread through his own exertion to get a home. He saves rent, and a hundred other expenses. He gets a home of his own. He gets into a healthy and sightly locality. He has just as good school privileges as could be asked for; is in fifteen minutes' ride of the center of Portland; costs only 5 cents passage on the company's boat. He can work his ten hours in Portland if he likes and reach Sellwood in the evening before his luckless chum, who pays $30 per month house rent on Twelfth street, walks out home. That's the reason Sellwood property is selling so rapidly. Lots are sold on installments of $10 per month.

HIGH SCHOOL DEBATING SOCIETY.—The last regular meeting for the school year just passed, of the High School Debating Society, was held Wednesday evening in the Park building. The adjourned meeting from two weeks ago was first gone through with, and the regular order of business taken up. An amendment appointing meetings for Friday night in place of Wednesday was offered and rejected. As no question had been chosen at the previous meeting, no debate took place. The question chosen for the next meeting was "Resolved, That pauper immigration should be prohibited." F. E. Lessard and Charles Seaguist were appointed leaders. Mr. Lessard chose the affirmative with H. W. Stone as second and Miss Dickinson as alternate, and Mr. Seaguist the negative with George Collins as second and Isaac Buxton as alternate. The society then adjourned, the next meeting to be held the first Wednesday in October.

NO EVIDENCE TO CONVICT.—George Johnson, the former bar-keeper at the True Blue saloon, corner of Oak and Second streets, who was charged with the robbery of the man Roggensen at that place one night in the month of May last, was discharged from custody in the county jail yesterday by order of the district attorney. There was an insufficiency of evidence to convict the accused, and rather than put the county to the expense of a trial the prisoner was discharged. The women implicated have mysteriously disappeared from the city. One of them was held under a bond which will, of course, be forfeited if she fails to appear when called upon. Johnson was offered an opportunity to plead to petit larceny, but he refused, stoutly maintaining his innocence. The action of these women throws the strong suspicion of guilt upon them.

WILL PROSECUTE TIMBER FRAUDS.—The great increase in the value of timber land has made it much sought after of late and the rapid rate at which it has been taken up in this region has created an impression that some improper means were being used by mill owners and speculators to acquire large tracts. A special agent has been sent out by the department at Washington to investigate the matter. It is claimed that persons have exercised their right to take up a quarter section of timber land for the benefit of mill owners who furnished the money to pay for the land and gave the persons taking it up a bonus to take false oaths and then deed the land to them. If proof of such transactions can be found, the agent will try and make trouble for the parties thus obtaining the land.

HEAVY PURCHASES.—There was a large attendance of county and city merchants yesterday at the sheriff's sale of Todd & Biven's bankrupt stock, and bidding was spirited. Most of the wares brought within 10 or 15 per cent. of cost price, and before night all the stock on the first floor was disposed of. One city buyer created some merriment by thoughtlessly bidding $3.50 for a case of champagne cider, which sells regularly for $1.50. It was knocked off to him without a second bid, amid great laughter. It is thought the stock, which invoiced $19,000, will realize $16,000.

DEATH OF AN INDIAN GIRL.—Miss Annie Swahea, one of the pupils in attendance upon the Indian school at Forest Grove, died suddenly yesterday morning at the National hotel from hemorrhage of the lungs. She was in the company of her schoolmates, who were on their way to their respective reservations for their summer vacation. Her death, though sudden, was not entirely unexpected, for the young woman had fallen a victim to the civilized Indian's greatest scourge, consumption, and was on her way home to die.

NOT HYDROPHOBIA.—Dr. S. E. Josephi, superintendent of the Oregon insane asylum, writes to THE OREGONIAN stating that Mrs. L. V. Hinkson, who was thought to be afflicted with hydrophobia, is a case of acute mania, and there is no occasion for any fear that the former disease exists. A party of physicians visited the asylum yesterday morning, but after a conversation with Dr. Josephi did not see Mrs. Hinkson, fearing that such an interview would tend only to excite her unnecessarily.

THIS MONTH'S EXCURSION.—Portlanders who desire to visit Alaska this summer will probably find more comfort by taking the Idaho, either direct from here to-morrow or via Victoria, July 3. The steamer in August will probably be crowded by eastern tourists. The following persons have engaged passage: Thomas Mehamm and family, W. M. Lee and wife, George H. Reed and wife, Dr. Hall, Mrs. Bloomfield, J. C. Judkins, E. K. Burk, Miss Sedmore and W. Whitlock.

BACK TO THE RESERVATIONS.—Twenty-two members of the Indian school at Forest Grove came in on the train yesterday on their way to their various reservations, where they propose to spend the summer vacation. They were under the charge of H. J. Minthorn and wife, and were lodged in the National hotel, on Front street. Some of the party took the Astoria boat for the Puyallup reservation and others boarded The Dalles train for eastern Washington.

FOREST FIRES.—A fire was raging in the woods upon the hill west of the city last evening, but was not extensive enough to do much damage. Another and a larger one was to be seen several miles up the river bank, but no account of it has yet been brought to the city. Now that the dry season is at its dryest, camping parties should be careful not to let their cheerful little blazes develop into forest fires.

PERILOUS PASSAGE.—One of Geo. W. Weidler's large scows, known as "No. 2," which has been engaged in the cordwood and lumber trade of the middle Columbia for the past three years, will be sailed over the Cascades to-day or to-morrow, under command of Capt. Driscoll. These perilous passages will soon be a thing of the past, and all who want to tell their progeny without lying that they have made the trip, had better apply at once.

TURN VEREIN ELECTION.—Last night the Portland Turn Verein elected the following officers: President, F. Wagner; vice president, Geo. Harold; recording secretary, Jos. Willius; financial secretary, G. A. Lobeteo; treasurer, G. A. Altsky; first leader, G. Castendieck; second leader, C. Trauger; first warden, John Trouger; second warden, A. Jenker; librarian, J. Kowall; stage manager, O. Roenicke.

EXTENSION OF SLEEPING CAR LINE.—Commencing the 1st of next month the Pullman sleeping cars will be run through to Missoula. The cars will leave Ainsworth at 8 A. M. and arrive at Missoula at 9:55 P. M. the following day, distance 482 miles. To-morrow morning's train will take the first regular car through. Pullman sleeping and dining cars are also now run between Helena and St. Paul.

AN APPEAL.

Ladies and Gentlemen, young and old: ... the concert to-night ... "Remember this for the ... you are ... If you don't care for ..., buy a ticket, or ... friends ... cannot afford to ... of the ... do your ... by giving ... to your generosity ... waiting to be requested.

Don't sit down to your dinner until you have purchased one, two or five, according to your ability, and your appetite will find a relish equal to that given by ocean breezes. MRS. A. HOLBROOK, President Ladies' Relief Society.

The above communication we happily and well timed. A deserving charity asks assistance and the public of Portland who are never loth to aid in charitable works will doubtless respond most generously. One or two changes have been made in the programme, but it is substantially the same as published yesterday. There are some surprises in store for those who attend, and assurance is given that this will be the best concert of the season. Let everybody be present.

AMUSEMENTS.

JANAUSCHEK.—This famous tragedienne arrived in Astoria by the Oregon yesterday and will give two performances there. Saturday night she and her talented company open here with "Mary Stuart." Of a recent engagement at Albany, N. Y., the Argus said: "The acting of Madame Janauschek during the present week has drawn large and cultivated audiences, and her appearance has been an event quite out of the usual routine of dramatic occurrences. An especial favorite of Albanians, this actress is recognized to be the ablest and most versatile woman at present on the stage, whose highest honors she evenly divided with Ristori, when that lady was at the zenith of her professional career. To the possession of genius far beyond mere talent, and of an art as consummate as her power, the claim of Madame Janauschek has long been considered indisputable by the public. Her acquisition of English, the better to master the meaning of the dramas of that language, and the better to reach the minds and hearts of Britain and America, was characteristic of her industry, determination and ability. During the week the ovations she has commanded have been in advance of those awarded to any player appearing in Albany for long years. They have been the response of the people to a force and a finesse, which are unexcelled in the highest fields of dramatic art."

PERSONAL.

Miss Sedmore, a correspondent of the St. Louis Globe Democrat, is in the city and will visit Alaska by the steamer Idaho, sailing to-morrow.

A. B. Sawyer, representing the house of I. B. Seeley & Co., truss manufacturers of Philadelphia, arrived in the city last evening by way of the N. P. R. R. He is one of the advance guard of the great army of commercial travelers which may be expected when the railroad is completed.

YAMHILL NOTES.

[FROM THE OREGONIAN'S LOCAL CORRESPONDENT.]

McMINNVILLE, June 28.

The drouth has not yet affected business to any extent.

The contract to macadamize Third street will be let next week.

A great many are going to the coast and the mountains hunting, fishing and recreating.

The evenings are cloudy and cool and the days are not oppressive with heat for the past week.

Dayton, Amity and Sheridan will celebrate the Fourth, and McMinnville and Lafayette will go to Portland.

A system of sewerage has been adopted by the city council, and will be a part of the proposed street improvements.

Farmers are getting ready for haying, and some of them are turning their stock in on late sown grain, as it will not do to cut even for hay.

Some of the old veterans say that if they could get enough of the boys together they will change the programme in regard to the "sham battle" result on the 4th.

From what I can learn from travelers, this county is faring better than any of the other valley counties in regard to the drouth. Some small patches of wheat that escaped the frost will make over thirty bushels to the acre, and some are estimating from one half to two-thirds crop without any more rain, but if we reach a half crop without rain we will do exceedingly well.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

Hildebrand & Anderson, the popular milliners in the Ainsworth building, on Third street, have for sale a variety of decorations, such as rosettes, sashes, etc., etc., suitable and necessary for persons participating in the grand Fourth of July celebration and procession.

Eastern oysters every steamer at Keith's.

BRIEF MENTION.

Charity Concert to-night.

The Oregon arrived at 10 o'clock last night.

Unity lodge celebrated its anniversary last night by a pleasant entertainment.

The Columbia fell one inch and the Snake one-half inch at Ainsworth yesterday.

Uncalled for messages at the Western Union office for Ella Fern, John McCafferty and J. W. Stewart.

The Northern Pacific will be opened for business to Missoula July 1. Freight will be received here to-day.

At the last communion service of the Taylor Street church thirty-five persons were received into membership.

From 10:30 o'clock Wednesday evening until 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, there were no arrests made by the police.

A. P. Hoult was found guilty yesterday by a jury in the state circuit court, of an outrageous assault upon Mrs. Rosa Munda Lund, several weeks ago.

White and Riggen now boast of the finest counter in the city, recently placed in their office on Stark street. It is of black walnut, handsomely carved and inlaid with white holly, juniper and other woods.

The fourth quarterly meeting of the Hall street station will be held next Sunday. Love-feast at 10 A. M., and preaching at 11 by Presiding Elder Fairchild, followed by the sacrament of the Lord's supper.

Ted. D. Marks and Sam Edwards, formerly cigar drummers well known here, are now advance agents for a "Fun in a Balloon" company, traveling in the east. The San Francisco Alta pertinently asks when that balloon will drop.

Sheriff Martin of Umatilla county came down last evening, having in charge Tom Coleman, sentenced to the penitentiary for burglary, and Herman Kruger, going to the same place for six months for assault with a deadly weapon.

A gentleman who came up from Astoria last evening reports the take of salmon as very poor at present. The average catch per boat yesterday morning was six fish. Kinney's cannery reports 6900 cases less packed than at this time last year, Hawthorn's 2500 and Eagle cannery 3000.

SALEM NOTES.

[FROM THE OREGONIAN'S LOCAL CORRESPONDENT.]

SALEM, June 28.

Drs. Good and Smith have already assumed control of their drug business in this city.

Fire department election on Monday, and the contest promises to be an exciting one.

Hon. J. B. Waldo, associate justice of the supreme court, has gone to Portland to spend his vacation.

Raymond Holmes' "Whims" is billed to appear at Reed's opera house on the evening of July 4. There will be a good house.

The switch out to the penitentiary has been completed, as far as the stockade, and will be taken inside in a day or two. Mr. Kuhn informs me he has several car-loads of stoves awaiting shipment.

The new uniform for Sedgwick post, No. 10, G. A. R., recently ordered from the east, consists only of blouse and cap. It is needless perhaps to add that additional uniform will be added when on parade.

Hon. E. B. McElroy, superintendent of public instruction, has won a host of new friends since the commencement of the present State Teachers' Institute by his superior executive abilities and courteous popularity.

The arguments in the case of the State vs. Gabiou were made this morning by W. H. Holmes for the prosecution and Ben. Hayden for the defense. The judge's charge to the jury was brief, and the jury retired about 10:30 o'clock, and up to present writing have not agreed on a verdict.

WEDNESDAY'S DOINGS.

In Justice Bulloch's court Wednesday A. J. Munroe appeared as plaintiff in a suit against Mrs. R. Josephson, of the Orleans restaurant, in which he sought to recover pay for ... pounds of strawberries furnished defendant. Defendant contended she made no agreement to take the berries, complaining that the boxes were short. Plaintiff, however, afterward furnished another box to make up the deficiency, though defendant did not signify her acceptance of the same. In the opinion of the court plaintiff failed to show the existence of any contract, and therefore found for defendant and taxed costs and disbursements, amounting to $11.25, to plaintiff.

He, with his family, arrived here on Tuesday last, and will hold service for the first time in this city on Sunday next. Mrs. Sickafoose will have charge of the Chinese mission school in Portland.

EAST PORTLAND COUNCIL.

The common council of East Portland met last evening in order to give the new members elect an opportunity to take their seats, this action being in pursuance of a provision of the new charter, which provides for the commencement of their term of office on the tenth day after election.

A bare quorum only was present, Crane and Cunningham being absent.

After reading of the minutes, Mayo moved that the council adjourn sine die, which was carried.

THE NEW COUNCIL.

Mayor Myers, retaining the president's chair, then invited the newly elected members to take their respective seats, which they did, together with the hold-over members.

The recorder read the roll, and the following members responded: E. J. Sprague, J. E. Mayo, Fred. Kindorf and J. F. Laing.

The mayor stated the first order of business would be the election of a president of the council, to act in the absence of the mayor.

Sprague nominated Mayo.

Mayo declined, and nominated Sprague.

There being no other nominee, the recorder, on motion of Mayo, cast the vote of the council for president for E. J. Sprague.

The recorder, at the instance of the mayor, then read the appointment of the following

STANDING COMMITTEES.

Ways and means—Sprague, Crane and Kindorf.
Current expenses and accounts—Laing, Mayo and Smith.
Fire and water—Smith, Kindorf and Laing.
Streets and public property—Mayo, Sprague and Crane.
Landings and wharves—Crane, Smith and Mayo.
Health and police—Kindorf, Sprague and Laing.
Elections—Sprague, Crane and Kindorf.
Judiciary—Mayo, Laing and Smith.

RULES OF ORDER.

At the suggestion of the mayor, Mayo moved that a committee of three be appointed to revise the rules of order and report forthwith. Motion carried and Mayo, Laing and Sprague appointed as committee.

After deliberation, the committee, by Mayo, reported, recommending the adoption of the old rules of order except that the word "council" be substituted for "board" and "mayor" for "president."

On motion of Smith, seconded by Kindorf, the report of the committee was adopted.

RESOLUTION.

On motion of Mayo the recorder was instructed to bid on the property to be sold for delinquent taxes to the amount of the tax and costs and no more.

FOURTH OF JULY.

The recorder read a communication from Gen. H. A. Morrow, stating that no reply had been received from a previous communication inviting the council to participate in the celebration on the Fourth and asking for a reply at an early day in order that the council might be assigned a place in the procession.

The recorder explained he had forwarded a reply to the committee of arrangements, but it evidently had not reached the proper parties.

Mayo moved to receive the communication and place it on file, and that the recorder be instructed to forward the thanks of the council for the invitation. No second.

Sprague then moved that the recorder be instructed to make reply signifying the acceptance of the invitation by the council, who would respond accordingly. Carried.

On motion of Sprague, adjourned.

A MEETING AT BEAVERTON.

On the morning of the 20th we left G... for a visit to the S. D. A. camp ground at Beaverton. Found it pleasantly located under beautiful oak, and ... place, about one-fourth mile from the town, with a new platform, where our conductor landed us. We passed into the campus under an evergreen-wreathed arched entrance, bearing the inscription "Glory to God in the Highest." An elegant tent some sixty by forty-three feet with the motto at the entrance "What is Truth?" stood in the centre of the ground for an audience room. By its side ... another sixty-foot tent with one ... used as a book stall, another as a provision store and third as a reading room. A half circle of some twenty-five tents were pitched at a convenient distance around them, with about ... occupants, representing Portland, Salem, Seattle, Beaverton, Forest Grove, Toledo, Brush Prairie (W. T.), Ilwaco, and Oakland and San Francisco (Cal.). The speakers were Elder Canright of the ... conference, an earnest, faithful, ... and a good speaker; Elder Boyd of the ... style appeared to ... Elder Haskell ... many countries ... Norway ... Switzerland, ... they publish ... in Christiania, Norway, they publish three papers, two in Danish and one in the Swedish tongue. During the massacre at Alexandria, Egypt, last year, three of these prominent missionaries were put to death. Their ... fled from the city, but have since returned and reopened their work. In Russia they publish a paper in their native tongue. These facts and many others in regard to the Waldenses were presented by him with thrilling interest to his hearers. Mr. White of Oakland, Cal., president of the Healdsburg college, represented the interests of the Oakland publishing house, where their missionary paper is printed, the Signs of the Times, which has in ten years time attained a circulation of between 17,000 and 20,000 copies weekly, and this publishing house is second to none on the coast. Also, they have the largest publishing house in Michigan, at Battle Creek, where they publish papers in five different languages, which are sent to every part of the world.

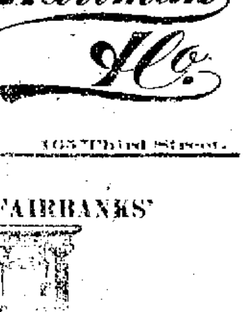

The meeting was spirited throughout and well attended, especially on Sunday, when the tent was filled. On Monday there were nine baptized. And ere the meeting closed, with less effort than we have ever seen put forth for the same object, $957 was pledged and raised for the various departments of their work. At their closing conference meeting the following officers were elected: C. L. Boyd of Salem, president; John Graham of Ilwaco, secretary, and O. Dickinson of Salem, treasurer. Of the T. and M. society, C. L. Boyd, president, and Mrs. M. S. Boyd, (who has been a missionary in their work in several of the California fields), secretary. On the 27th they broke up their camp and left their beautiful grounds; and we took our departure, feeling that it was the most orderly and pleasant Christian meeting we had ever been permitted to attend.

The Daily Oregonian.

FRIDAY MORNING, JUNE 29, 1883.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

The Oklahama Muddle.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—The secretary of war has transmitted to the interior department the following telegram from General Pope:

FT. LEAVENWORTH, KAS., June 27.—David L. Payne has applied to the United States circuit court at Topeka for an injunction against yourself and me, restraining us from interfering with his entrance into and occupation of the Oklahama district in the Indian territory. This application brings up for decision the whole question of the status of the Oklahama district. I sent the papers served on yourself and me jointly to the United States district attorney for Kansas, who requests me to report the facts to Washington in order that instructions be sent him. The case needs immediate attention, and I request that the district attorney for Kansas be telegraphed at once to attend to the case.

Secretary Lincoln adds that he has furnished a copy of the telegram to the attorney general with the request that he take the necessary measures to meet the application.

The Hill Investigation.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—In the Hill investigation Coleman called for all the vouchers paid since 1876 and also for vouchers for money paid Bartlett, Robbins & Co. During arguments of counsel for prosecution the latter firm was charged with having secured nearly all the contracts for tiling since Hill's advent, through corrupt influence of that office. General Steinemez, formerly assistant superintendent of construction of the New York postoffice, testified that bills were rendered by Bartlett & Co. for extra work which was never completed or even begun. He cited an instance where one pair of stairs, for which that firm charged $968, were never put into the building and that other charges for extra work appeared on their bills for which he (Stinemez) never gave any orders. The commission then adjourned to give witness an opportunity to inspect papers and vouchers called for by the prosecution.

Decision by the Secretary of the Interior.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—The secretary of the interior has decided that lands selected under the laws of Utah for university purposes are effective and valid as to location, but refuses to anticipate the power of a future state to endow a contemplated university, holding that the question is political rather than executive.

The secretary has declined to grant the request of a number of citizens of California, looking to a discontinuance of suits brought to recover lands in Colusa, California, from the Central Pacific railroad.

Instructions in Regard to Shipping Government Freight.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—The secretary of the treasury has issued a circular calling attention to the decision of the first comptroller of the treasury, to the effect that payments must be made in cash for transportation services performed for any department of the government over such portion of the several Pacific railroads as have not been built by the aid of government bonds, and adding that whenever practicable and more economical to do so, it is desirable that shipments of government freight be made over railroads which have received aid in bonds or land from the United States, and all the officers shipping such freight should specify the particular route by which the same is to be transported.

Dorsey Goes to New Mexico.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—[Special.]—Ex-Senator Dorsey has left the city to visit his New Mexican ranch. He will be gone about a month. It is understood that the bulk of his political documents will be reserved for publication until his return. Nearly all the letters in his possession have been photo-lithographed. He had a three-column article prepared for Logan, in the event of that gentleman denying he is an ambitious hypocrite.

Dismission of Place Asked for.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—The attorney for the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad Company to-day made argument before the postmaster general in support of the application of the company for remission of fines and deductions for non performance of contracts to carry mail. The company allege that they are not properly responsible for delays caused by floods.

The Bottom Must be Reached.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Hon. Walter Evans, commissioner of internal revenue, has directed Collector [illegible] of Boston to make an investigation of the charges against the newly appointed revenue agent, [illegible]. The commissioner says the very [illegible] of this affair must be reached before Horton [illegible].

The Universal Postal Union.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—The postoffice department has received information that the Australian colonies have resolved to apply for admission to the universal postal union. If this application is successful, Victoria will be the only country with an [illegible] postal service not included in the union.

An Investigation.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Secretary Teller is investigating the charge that some of the registers of [illegible] in Kansas use their position to force [illegible] in certain papers at the expense of [illegible].

NEW YORK, June 28.—Isaac A. Briggs, broker, and [illegible], lawyer, both of this city, with Emile [illegible], a woman nearly 74 years old, of Stamford, [illegible], have been arrested on a charge of selling [illegible] state bonds to Edward R. Briggs was sent to the state [illegible] for attempting to blackmail John [illegible] a professional forger, [illegible] in 1880, in a rare [illegible]. Wesley Lyons was [illegible] a year ago on a charge of selling [illegible] bonds, but was released on bail, and [illegible]. When Briggs was arrested [illegible] in his possession bonds of the [illegible] railroad and the Chicago and [illegible] Coal Company. They are supposed [illegible] of mythical companies, prepared [illegible] purposes.

[illegible] AGAINST A BAND OF OUTLAWS.

[illegible], June 28.—Lawlessness has long existed [illegible] of Garland and Montgomery [illegible] have organized a reign of [illegible]. Ocean [illegible] murdered and [illegible] a "neighborhood [illegible]" to the owner of the premises, commanding [illegible] to leave the country or be killed. The records of the home, the [illegible] and half a dozen witnesses proved the [illegible] false.

[illegible] ROBBERY ON A STEAMBOAT.

[illegible], Ill., June 28.—[Special.]—Several Chinamen [illegible] the steamer John A. Sandder at New [illegible] this city, having as baggage an immense, [illegible], copper bound chest, very heavy, which [illegible] supposed to contain the combined fortune of [illegible] party. The Mongolians placed cards upon the chest, which was never alone, but was always watched by one or two of its owners, and was generally the source of much solicitude. Upon reaching Cairo the chest, which it took six men to carry aboard, was easily shoved aside by one, when the startling discovery was made that a thief had descended into the hold of the boat and sawed through the deck into the bottom of the chest, making a hole three feet by one, through which the contents had been abstracted, leaving only the bare chest visible to the sorrowing Orientals. About $100 in gold, besides the Chinese wardrobe, was purloined. There is no clue as to the thieves, as it was impossible to locate the place of the robbery, the thieves probably having the boat 100 miles below.

GAMBLING HOUSES CLOSED.

OMAHA, June 28.—[Special.]—City Marshal Guthrie closed up the gambling houses, six in number, last evening. These houses have been paying a fixed fine each month, which was practically high license, and the police say the immediate cause of the closing was not any lack of squareness in the manner of conducting the houses, but the fact that thieves and burglars, which have troubled the city greatly for several months, find a harbor there.

A RICH BEGGAR.

NEW YORK, June 28.—[Special.]—An Italian woman was arrested to-day for street begging who is proven to be worth $10,000. Since her arrival, some years ago, she has made two trips to Genoa, Italy, her native place, and on her return last time brought a deformed child with her, with which she has since been traveling about.

Western Oregon.

A Sheridan correspondent says: Some two weeks ago a man by the name of Williamson, who was thought not to be in his right mind, left Mr. J. Langley's, for whom he had been at work on the water ditch, and has not been heard of since. His bible having his name written in it, together with part of a suspender and other parts of clothing with blood on them, were found a few days ago in Thomas Kickey's pasture. Search has been made in a[illegible] creek and in the brush on each side of the stream, but nothing as yet has been discovered.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

The Western Floods.

ST. LOUIS, June 27.—The river has fallen five inches to-day and the government gauge now marks 31 feet 4 inches of water. The water at East St. Louis is also declining satisfactorily, and the danger is over. T. J. Rich[illegible], agent of the Pest railroad at Venice, has been elected chairman of the relief committee appointed to succor destitute people in the Venetian [illegible] north and east of that place. He says the situation is growing worse daily, and that there are great numbers of people out of their homes who are surrounded by water and unable to communicate their distress to any one. The committee sent [illegible] to-day to visit every house north and east of Venice, and bring to that place all those in destitute condition. Besides these Mr Richardson says there are [illegible] who will not ask for food or beg for assistance. Those we must find out and help. To-day people came in from eight to ten miles above Venice, asking for relief, and if we can't get money any other way we will mortgage houses to buy provisions with the proceeds. One family, consisting of Mr. Richardson, of eight people, including six small children, have been living on raw potatoes for four days. They were found to-day and relieved. At Brooklyn, ninety families are known to require assistance, and many more will doubtless be found. Most sufferers have sufficient clothing for the present, but want provisions and groceries, or money to buy them. The full committee, at a meeting at Venice to-day, issued a call for help. Money or provisions can be sent to Henry Robinson, chairman of the relief committee.

Still Falling.

ST. LOUIS, June 28.—There is not much to be said about the flood here or elsewhere to-night. The river has fallen five inches in the past twenty-four hours, and the feeling is that no more damage will be done.

Von Baumbach, for secretary of state; Charles Kittleson, treasurer; W. J. Hahn, attorney general; J. H. Baker, railroad commissioner. Following is an extract from the platform adopted: "We believe in maintaining a system of internal revenue laws upon articles of luxury, such as whisky and tobacco, together with a system of duties upon imports so applied as to provide revenue for the necessary expenses of the government, and so adjusted as to encourage development of the manufacturing and labor interests of the whole country." The platform indorses the administration of President Arthur, and favors submitting a prohibition constitutional amendment to the people.

A Boxer's Boasts.

ST. LOUIS, June 27.—Chas. Mitchell, English champion pugilist, who has been doing a boxing scene in "Tom and Jerry," at the People's theater here this week, leaves here with his trainer, Wm. Madden, for Pueblo, Colorado, to-morrow. He will spend two weeks in Colorado and then go to San Francisco, arriving the 1st or 2d of July. In an interview with a reporter to-night he said: "While in California I shall offer $500 to any man belonging to that state who will stand before me four rounds under the Marquis of Queensbury rules. Accepted or not I shall return about the 1st of August to Kansas City and go into training in that neighborhood for my coming fight with Slade. I don't expect to take off much flesh and shall enter the ring at 182 pounds. I now weigh 165 pounds with my clothes on.

The Iowa Republicans.

The first resolution adopted by the republican convention is as follows: We reaffirm the republican national platform of 1880, insist upon its enforcement in its relation to the several affairs of national relation of states and territories in order that sound policy shall prevail in the nation and ample protection be afforded to its citizens in the several states and in foreign countries. The great territories should be made as absolutely free from the debasing presence and pernicious influence of polygamy as the states now are of slavery. The eighth resolution is as follows: That we favor the creation by congress of a department of industry, revision of our patent laws for the better defence of the people against frauds now practiced thereunder, maintenance and enforcement of the laws for the protection of western cattle farmers from contagious diseases. Such improvement of our national water ways as should tend to enforce the element of competition in transportation out of the country.

Murray, publishes the result of an extended investigation through the producing states of the west concerning the corn and wheat crops. He places the aggregate wheat yield at 440,000,000 bushels, against 504,000,000 last year. The corn crop is in good state generally. Acreage is considerably increased, and condition averages well, though backward. Many sections have drawbacks from excessive rains, which interfere with tilling. Seven per cent of the returns report fair to good supplies of old corn on hand.

A Familiar Thing in Oregon Readers.

CONCORD, N. H., June 27.—Several rumors to-night in relation to the senatorial fight are reported. FOREIGN NEWS.

AN ENGLISH JOURNAL ON PAUPER EMIGRATION.

LONDON, June 27.—The News this morning says: "It is perfectly within the Americans' right to prevent the landing of Irish paupers on their shores. The gross negligence in shipping them is most cruel. If assisted emigration continues it must be conducted differently. There is no reason to believe that the government has co-operated with any other agency than Mr. Tukes, but more inaction is not now enough."

QUARANTINE AGAINST CHOLERA.

LONDON, June 28.—The Italian government has ordered in quarantine all vessels arriving from Egypt. The French government has issued a similar order. The Temps (Paris), says cholera appeared in Bombay to-day, and English delegates to the sanitary commission at Constantinople prevented the taking of proper precautionary measures, declaring that commercial interests were as important as those of public health.

Late shipments include a considerable quantity of mustard, sherry wine and champagne, not brought on California account, but imported to this port by steamer in order to take advantage of the new tariff. Tonnage is still scarce and the only charter is the Florence, coal from Baltimore to San Francisco, at $6.

STATE TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE OREGONIAN.]

SALEM, June 27.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Institute called to order at 2 P. M. A permanent organization was effected by appointing [illegible] Committee, [illegible] G. H. [illegible], E. Elworthy, J. D. Hawes, J. N. Gatch; recording secretary, Miss Alice Clawson, Miss [illegible] Parker; certificate secretary, H. W. Herren.

Committee on introduction and entertainment: [illegible] J. Fraser, D. W. Jarvis, Addie Sterling, Emily Beckley, [illegible] McNary, Letha Moses.

Committee on resolutions: Prof. M. G. Royal, Prof. B. J. Hawthorne, Supt. P. A. Moses, Mrs. Alma M. Moses, Prof. J. W. Grant, Miss Nellie Gatton.

Committee on schools and school laws: Supt. Frank Eyler, T. H. Crawford, Supt. J. Essington, Mrs. A. E. Fenton, Supt. J. T. Gregg, Prof. J. D. Robb, Miss E. M. Wilbur.

Discussion was renewed on the subject, "What methods of instruction will most successfully lead pupils to original investigation." Superintendents Gregg made a few remarks and was followed by W. H. Evans, who offered some good suggestions looking toward inciting original investigation in the minds of pupils.

President Stanley stated as principles to guide in this study: (1) Make the subject interesting; (2) give outline; (3) question pupils; (4) written reviews on principles.

Superintendent Baird of Clackamas county thought no stereotyped set of rules could be given that would guide all teachers. The old incentive for original investigation was the birch—very poor incentive; thankful we now have a better.

A piano solo by Miss Leona Withers was well rendered.

Prof. Z. M. Marvin read a well-written article on "Music in Public Schools." The speaker proceeded to answer some objections made to teaching this branch, and then gave a few of the reasons why it should be taught. Music cultivates the emotional nature, cultivates the mind and our finer feelings; gives enjoyment while studying, but especially in later years. Each teacher should understand music. Make the instruction as simple as possible; use common words. Our teachers should be compelled to teach music in the public schools.

Miss Aeolia Royal favored the institute with a song, "Little Birdie Mine," which was well received.

Intermission of ten minutes.

"Love and War," a duet, was sung by Profs. Starr and Parvin; heartily applauded.

"Orthoepy" was the subject of an address by T. H. Crawford. Too much consideration cannot be given to the subject of correct pronunciation. The speaker spoke of the idioms prevailing in different parts of the country, New England, the southern states, the western, etc. Spoke of the unavoidableness of teachers mispronouncing so many common words. How can the scholar be correctly taught when the instructor is deficient? Teachers are more liable to err in pronunciation than in grammar. Thought kindly criticism from fellow teachers would be beneficial in correcting errors.

On motion Superintendent McElroy appointed J. T. Gregg and Mrs. A. M. Ames as critics for the institute.

Institute then adjourned until 8 P. M.

EVENING SESSION.

Exercises were resumed at 8 o'clock, when the institute was led in prayer by Rev. Mr. Berry of Salem.

A duet, "O, Haste Crimson Morning," was sung by Messrs. Starr and Parvin.

Rev. E. Trumbull Lee was then introduced, and delivered an address on the subject "Moral Power of Natural Science." The speaker first pleasantly referred to the time when he was a teacher in northern Massachusetts. In support of his theme, he said every age has produced its mental and moral lights and the means for enhancing their brilliancy. One of the aids now afforded us is the branch of natural science. Science in general has too often been viewed from a theoretical standpoint; we must view it in the light of facts—facts beautiful and impressive. Does it not seem that as the facts of natural science lead up to God, the study of these facts will foster truth and draw the student nearer to his maker. There was a time when the natural sciences were not studied. Since that time riot and bloodshed have been lessened, partly owing to the ennobling influences of these branches. Their study cultivates the imagination. Think of the imagination as it soars up, out and above our every day life and communes with its maker among the rocks and on the mountain tops. But let it be noticed that natural science only prepares the way for revelation. The former is the latter's handmaid; both lead up toward God. The address was thoughtful and scholarly and was thoroughly appreciated by the audience.

Miss Leona Withers of Salem very effectively sung "Kathleen Mavourneen."

Mrs. Olive S. England read an essay on "Imagination." We live in the realm of imagination from childhood to old age; how necessary that the imaginative faculties should be properly trained. Every teacher should be refined, be possessed of elevated imagery, and his pupils will then partake of his ideas. What power for evil is there in a perverted imagination! An imagination under full control enables us to see good in all our fellow creatures. We do not think of a tree when stripped of leaves or flowers, but when clothed with verdure in the early spring; so should we judge those with whom we mingle. Every person has his spring, summer, fall and winter of life. The essay was listened to with marked attention.

"The Three Fishers," was sung by Prof. Parvin.

Miss A. R. Luse then read Will Carleton's, "The Editor's Guest," and responding to a hearty encore, recited "How Reubenstein Played on the Piano." This selection is a favorite with all audiences, and especially so when rendered by Miss Luse.

By request, Professors Starr and Parvin repeated the song "Love and War."

Institute adjourned until to-morrow morning.

MORNING SESSION.

SALEM, June 28.

A short discussion was held on the subject "What are the comparative merits of mixed and graded schools?" Some of the advantages of graded schools were spoken of by H. B. Elworthy. Economy of time and labor produces order and discipline. Discussions was indulged in by W. E. Yates, Superintendent Moses, Miss Alice Clawson and T. H. Crawford.

Superintendent J. T. Gregg of Marion county delivered an address on "How can country schools be graded to the best advantage?" A short outline was given of the manner schools are graded in the cities. The method of securing a graded school in the country is to have proficiency in the superintendents; give them power to grade and regulate the classes; let first grade teachers only be allowed to teach first grade schools. If the faculty and regents of our state university would take more interest in our common schools, there would be greater enthusiasm among teachers and directors. They should bring themselves down to the level of the common pedagogue. He suggested a few methods for grading the country schools.

Miss Helen Spaulding offered a few remarks, and was followed by President Van Scoy on the topic presented by Superintendent Greggs. The latter gentleman then made some explanatory remarks, followed by Superintendent McElroy, who apologized for the non attendance of the faculty of the state university, and spoke pointedly on several thoughts presented. He severely rebuked members of the institute for hurling personal fire brands into the association. Hoped that he would never again have to refer to it in future. A recess of ten minutes.

An instrumental duet by Misses Scriber and Dearborn was artistically executed.

J. D. Lee of Dallas addressed the institute on "Educational Work." There seems to be in the present educational system an absorption of individuality. Think the schools of Europe foster individuality more than do ours. Believe that the opposers of higher education are from that class who possess but little individuality and are accustomed to look upon the surface of men and things. Private and obscure life is the normal state of the individual. We should not cut down the curriculum, but make education more practical. Am a firm believer in industrial schools. Briefly stated the theory of these schools is to teach not only the head, but the hand and eye. Our boys should be taught what they can practice when they become men. The necessity of reform schools is beginning to be realized. A few words of encouragement to the teachers closed the address.

"A Rainy Day" was sung by Z. M. Parvin, in clear tones, when the Institute adjourned until 1:30 P. M.

TRADE AND COMMERCE.

THURSDAY, June 28.

The markets have shown no unusual degree of activity in the [illegible] Probably trade for the [illegible] days has been [illegible] by [illegible] for the [illegible] next week. The [illegible] [illegible] very few buyers [illegible], purchases being [illegible] or later. Many orders have [illegible] for this week's steamer. [illegible] have been rather larger than for the [illegible] than an excess amount bringing [illegible] daily expected [illegible] [illegible]. We also have two Australian coal cargoes [illegible] and a ship from Philadelphia with railway [illegible]. These comprise earliest expected arrivals. The [illegible] Departure [illegible] receipts, while not large, are [illegible] arrivals are kept moving.

Considerable discussion has been indulged in regarding the probable effect of continued heat upon growing crops. The eastern section reports no damage of consequence, and no probability of any, as the crops are well along. In the valley the situation might be called serious, as sowing was late and there has been little rainfall since sowing. All cereals need rain, else the outturn will be lessened. Potatoes are doing poorly, and even should rain come the improvement would be slight. In consequence of the lateness of the season hay is being cut and secured. Rain would cause a heavier yield, but farmers are afraid to wait for it.

Freights for next season's loading are still quoted nominally at 65s for iron to U. K., but there is no business. Shippers have secured enough tonnage for needs up to December, and will not enter the market in the present crop uncertainty. At San Francisco a dull market rules, with 55 shillings for iron for August. Spot vessels here are less inclined to hold out, but cannot secure a freight at present. Another vessel will shortly be needed for salmon, but can easily be secured.

Wheat is in no Local Business. Foreign advices continue depressed and show a steadily declining market. New York quotes lower and Chicago has gone from bad enough to $1 01¼—a very low quotation. San Francisco reports a dull trade as regards spot, with a fair business in futures.

Flour weak at the reduced quotation. Choice brands, well classed as standard, are offering at shaded rates. The margin for the miller at present values is almost nothing, but there is only the local demand to be met.

Wool has a good business at unchanged prices. Buyers discriminate closely and for ordinary to poor lots refuse to bid. Eastern is in free receipt, while Valley has not fairly commenced to come forward. Yamhill and Washington counties are sending a poor grade which is not wanted by most buyers. Other markets have been in better tone, with a slight advance in some instances. Speculators have entered the market against scourers and manufacturers. No advance of consequence is looked for during the summer, and what the fall will bring forward is a matter of conjecture.

Oats in ample supply at unchanged values. The undertone points to a strong market until harvest.

Millstuffs continue firm at full prices. The market is supplied by California mills to a large extent. Ground barley steady with weak undertone.

Potatoes firm for choice old with light stocks. New shows a wide range in values owing to the different qualities offering.

Green apples are a luxury that is not much sought after, owing to price. Stocks are nil.

Dried apples firm with sun dried in sacks almost out of the market. Plums and peaches firm with local receipts not sufficient to meet the demand.

Provisions steady at quotations. Very little shading of rates is done and this is confined to off grades.

Hay weaker under larger offerings of new. Loose sells from wagons at $20.

Chickens generally firm $5 50. Ducks quoted at $6@10. Eggs 35c.

The general merchandise markets are in good business with few changes. The stock of Todd & Bliven is being sold at auction to-day. Prices realized are said to be very satisfactory. Grain bags show a slight decline.

The salmon catch for Tuesday night averaged 66 to the boat. A few days ago we noted that the fish were getting smaller. The size of the fish is as fully important as the number caught. This season they have been of good size, probably larger than for previous few years. From well informed sources we gather information that leads us to believe the pack this year will be fully up to that of last year. The Ryevale has finished loading, the Ulloch is almost full, and the Crowell is filling up fast. The Hulbert, for New York, will be in berth next week.

Receipts past 24 hours have been 125 ctls wheat, 353 bbls flour, 200 ctls oats, 22,000 lbs millstuff, 2 sks potatoes, 116 bls hay, 1640 lbs hides, 28 bxs butter, 2100 doz eggs, 33 bxs fruit. Also 20,000 lbs bran, 43,289 lbs wool, 1500 lbs hides from the eastern section.

EXCITED CHICAGO MARKETS.

CHICAGO, June 28.—The markets on 'change suffered another bad break this morning, and the forenoon session was marked by uneasiness and, at times, great excitement. The depression in prices extended in provisions and grain as well, but was more especially felt in pork and wheat. Pork has shown a steady and heavy decline the past three days, and this morning took another tumble of 42½@50c, and lard descended 7½@7½c, making quotations for July options less than that touched on Saturday, made notable by the failure of McGeoch. Wheat, which has displayed weakness for the past week, dropped 1¼@1½c. These declines have renewed all the uneasiness of the past two weeks, and the announcement is made at noon that H. J. Kenyan and John Sinclair have succumbed. They have been dealing in grain, but are not rated as very extensive dealers. One cause assigned for the unusual weakness displayed by the markets is that owing to the bad showing made by McGeoch, Everingham & Co. and M. S. Nichols & Co., and particularly by the latter firm from whom better reports as to assets had been anticipated.

A WOMAN'S EXPERIENCE.

Mrs. Whitbur Slowness, of Uxbridge, Mass., writes on March 15, 1883, as follows:

"During the past three years I have been a great sufferer from a complication of diseases which baffled the skill of the most experienced doctors, as I could not obtain permanent relief by their treatment and prescriptions, and I have so tried many so-called cures in the medicinal line, but could get no relief. The pains, aches and weakness increased so rapidly and constantly that I was so reduced in strength as to be unable to leave the bed, and the doctors informed me that there was no hope of a recovery. In this exhausted and discouraged condition a dear friend persuaded me to use Hunt's Remedy, and after taking it only three days I commenced to get better, and to my great joy and delight I have continued to improve constantly by its use, until now, after having taken the remedy only a few weeks, I am able to be about my house again, and am now doing my house work. My lame back is cured, the severe pains have disappeared, and I am now in better health than for many years, and beg this privilege of gladly recommending Hunt's Remedy to all who are affected with any disease of the kidneys or liver; and I also highly recommend it for the attacks of sick headache. My husband has also experienced a very great benefit to his health by the use of this most valuable medicine, Hunt's Remedy."

"OUR FLAG IS STILL THERE."

Mr. S. B. LONGFELLOW, Augusta, Me., east side river, writes us under date of April 15, 1883:

"To whom it may concern: This may certify that two years ago I was very badly afflicted with kidney and urinary difficulties, which extended through the system and laid me up for weeks, so that I could do no work. I had the most skillful physician in town, who gave me no assistance. Hearing of Hunt's Remedy I got a bottle, and half of it cured me entirely, so that I have been well ever since. The other half I gave to a neighbor who was afflicted much as I was, and it restored him to health. I can truly say Hunt's Remedy has been of great and inexpressible worth to me."
